

Interfaith Hospitality Network of Essex County is a not-for-profit organization that provides shelter, professional support services, and housing assistance so homeless families can find and sustain their own homes. We do this with help from an extensive network of volunteers, generous individuals, and other partners throughout our community.

About IHN

For 27 years, Interfaith Hospitality Network (IHN) has been providing emergency shelter and professional support services to help transition families into their own homes. This is done through a network of congregations — and about 1,000 volunteers — to provide shelter and meals. Here's what IHN does:

- Keeps families together, including mothers, fathers and teenage children
- Provides intensive case management to restore families to their own homes as quickly as possible
- Partners with community resources to ensure that families strengthen skills and receive support services and necessary financial assistance
- Administers free after school tutoring and enrichment for children in IHN shelter and housing programs
- Provides adults workshops in budgeting and finance, parenting, nutrition, and computer skills.
- Provides rental assistance to families in the community to prevent homelessness.
